A man comes home from an exhausting day at work,
plops down on the couch in front of the television,
and tells his wife, "Get me a beer before it starts."

The wife sighs and gets him a beer.

Ten minutes later, he says,

"Get me another beer before it starts."

She looks cross, but gets another beer
and slams it down next to him.

He finishes that beer and a few minutes later says, "Quick, get me another beer,
it's going to start any minute!"

The wife is furious. She yells at him,
"Is that all you're going to do tonight?
Drink beer and sit in front of that TV?

You're nothing but a lazy, drunken,
fat slob, and if you think..."

The man sighs and says, "It's started..."

A mother was telling her daughter what her own childhood had been like.

"We used to skate on the pond every winter. I had a swing made from a tire that hung from a tree in our front yard. We rode our pony everywhere. We picked wild raspberries in the woods..."

Ed and Eva were having another major argument, and it ended the way it always ended, with Ed saying, "When I die, I will dig my way up and out of the grave to come back and haunt you for the rest of your life!"

Several years later, Ed died.

After the burial, Eva and a friend of hers were talking.

"Eva, doesn't it concern you at all what Ed used to say about digging up and out of his grave?"

Eva shrugged and said,

"Nah, let the old man dig.

I had him buried upside down."

A tourist is picked up by a cabbie on a dark night. The passenger taps the driver on the shoulder to ask him something.

The driver screams, loses control of the car,
nearly hits a bus, drives up on the sidewalk,
and stops inches from a shop window.

For a second, everything is quiet in the cab,
then the driver says,

"Look, friend, don't EVER do that again.
You scared the daylight out of me!"

"I'm sorry," the passenger says,
"I didn't think a little tap could scare you so much."

The driver, after gathering himself together
replies, "Well, I guess it's really not your fault.

Today is my first day as a cab driver-
I've been driving a hearse for the last 25 years."

A minister was mending his fence when he noticed a neighbour's son paying close attention to the job.

*"Getting some pointers on mending fences?"
the clergyman asked.*

"No, sir," the boy replied. "I'm just waiting to hear what a preacher says when he smashes his thumb with a hammer."

There was a man who travelled all over the world.

Every city he was in, he'd buy something for his mother and send it to her.

On one such stop, he found a parrot
that spoke thirty languages.

He immediately bought it and sent it to his mother. A few days later, he phoned her and asked, "Did you like the parrot?"

"Oh, yes," she replied, "It was delicious."

"What?" he bellowed. "You ate it?"

That parrot wasn't for you to eat!

It spoke thirty languages!"

The mother thought for a moment,
then said, "So, why didn't it say something?"

STRANGE But True...

A woman came home to find her husband in the kitchen, shaking frantically with what looked like a wire running from his waist to the electric kettle. Intending to jolt him away from the deadly current, she grabbed a handy plank of wood from beside the back door, and whacked him a good one, breaking his arm in two places. Until that moment, he had been happily listening to his Walkman.

A life lesson:

Never under any circumstances take a sleeping pill and a laxative on the same night.

"How did the fight start?"

"Well, I asked my wife where she wanted to go for our anniversary. And she said 'Somewhere I haven't been for a long time.' So I suggested, 'How about the kitchen?'"

A lumber camp advertised they were looking for a good lumberjack. The very next day, a skinny little guy showed up at the camp with his axe. The boss took one look at him and told him to scram.

"Just give me a chance to show what I can do," said the skinny man.

"Okay," the boss said, "See that giant redwood over there? Take your axe and go cut it down." The skinny man headed for the tree and within five minutes, he was back to see the boss.

"I cut the tree down," he reported.

The boss could not believe his eyes!

"Where did you get the skill to chop trees down like that?"

"In the Sahara Forest," the little man answered.

"You mean the Sahara Desert," the boss said.

The skinny little guy laughed and said,

"Oh, sure, that's what they call it now!"

Use mesh onion sacks for gathering shell or sand toys at the beach. They're strong, waterproof, and they sift out most of the sand by themselves. When you get home, rinse the sack and its contents under an outdoor faucet, and it will cut down on the amount of sand in the house or garage.

Two snakes were talking. The first one said, "Are we the type of snakes who wrap themselves around our prey, then squeeze and crush them until they're dead, or are we the type of snake who ambush our prey and bite them in order to poison them?"

The second snake said, "Why do you ask?"

The first snake replies, "Well, because I just bit my lip!"

One Sunday morning

a little girl was running and praying,

"Dear God, please don't let me be late for church.

Please don't let me be late for church..."

As she was running, she tripped and fell.

When she got back up, she began praying again...

"Please God, don't let me be late for church;
but don't shove me either!"
